Carol Jean Blumer, age 88, died of complications from Alzheimers disease on Friday August 9, 2019, in Napa, California. She was diagnosed in 2016 with late stages of the disease.

She is preceded in death by her brother Edward Dane, and husband Dale Blumer. She married Dale in 1952. They met shortly after Dales honorable discharge from the United States Navy at Skaggs Island, while Carol was working in her fathers Railway Express Office in Napa. The couple had two children together, Jeff and John.

Carol was born on February 23, 1931 in Colfax, California to mother Pearl Dane, and father Archie Dane. She graduated from Napa Senior High School in 1950.

In 1963, she and Dale moved to Watsonville, California where Dale worked in bookkeeping and accounting, and Carol volunteered in the local school district working in the elementary school library, as well as at the California Department of Farm Labor. Carol and Dale were very involved in the Presbyterian Church in Watsonville and enjoyed activities with friends they met there. In 1972, Carols husband Dale found a business opportunity back in Napa, and the family moved there and remained until Dales retirement, after which they toured the country in their motor home. After Dales passing in 1992, Carol moved to Green Valley, Arizona, and worked in a few clerical positions before retiring. Carol was active in her church there, participating in several home Bible studies and Valley Presbyterian ministries, most notably, Stephens Ministry. She was active in their Senior Supper Club and sang in the church choir for several years.

Carol was a loving and nurturing mother. She was a socially active woman who was deeply involved in writing, music and various forms of art for most of her life. She enjoyed gardening, sewing, playing golf, and fellowshiping with camping friends from the Napa Presbyterian Church, Merrimacs with Dale, and participating in Bible Study Fellowship for many years. Her family and friends will always remember her as an outgoing and spiritually encouraging person who loved to laugh and have fun.
